The devastating human and economic impact of Covid-19 presents an opportunity to reimagine South Africa's future. Business for South Africa (B4SA) has adopted a multi-disciplinary approach to develop an accelerated economic recovery strategy for the country. The B4SA plan identifies ways to increase GDP by R1 trillion, create up to 1.5 million jobs, and increase tax revenues by R100 billion per annum. This will harness South Africa's potential in the shortest possible time by leveraging all resources – across government, business, and civil society – to address the economic and social challenges which we face.

B4SA in partnership with SABSA invite you to join B4SA leaders Martin Kingston and Cas Coovadia (BUSA) and Sandile Zungu and Kganki Matabane (BBC) on Wednesday, 12 August 2020 at 15:00-17:00 for a briefing on the strategy followed by an interactive discussion and the opportunity for faculty and students to ask questions.

Business for South Africa (B4SA) is an alliance of volunteers from across South African business bodies, organisations and member companies working with government and each other to combat COVID-19. B4SA, represents the vast majority of South African businesses and incorporates the major business associations, including Business Unity South Africa, the Black Business Council, the Association for Savings and Investments South Africa, Banking Association of South Africa, Business Leadership South Africa, and the Minerals Council of South Africa.
